

Media Alert

Steria appoints two new Country CEOs

→ www.steria.com

Paris, France, 5 February 2013 – Steria, a leading provider of IT-enabled business services, today announced two new appointments to its senior management team. Bart Denoodt and Vera Jin have been appointed CEO of Steria Belux and Steria Asia in Singapore, respectively. These senior hires will strengthen Steria's global management team and reinforce the company's position as a Trusted Transformation Partner for its clients.

Prior to joining Steria three years ago, Bart Denoodt worked for a variety of IT companies including EDS, Logica and Synstar. Previously the chief commercial officer of Steria Belux, he brings 24 years of experience in IT services, outsourcing and consulting to the role. Bart will report to Olivier Vallet, Senior Executive Vice President and CEO Steria France.

Vera Jin worked for Singapore Technologies and US company TransCore before joining the Steria team in 2007. Before her appointment to CEO, Vera held the positions of COO and director for transport business for Steria Asia. In her new role, Vera will draw on her rich domain expertise and leadership experience, boosting sales and the company's presence in Asia. She will report to Steria's Senior Executive Vice President, CEO United Kingdom and India, John Torrie.