Sopra Group, ranked first in PAC RADAR for Application Management, launches its new "IS Assets Enhancement" offer

Paris, 14 October 2013 - The Pierre Audoin Consultants (PAC) research and consultancy group analysed the 14 major international players in the Application Management sector on the French market, focusing on (using information collected directly from clients) the overall quality of their services on the basis of criteria such as experience, know-how, quality of service and the level of the offer. Sopra Group shares first place in this ranking with Accenture.

Jacques Vesco, Director of the Sopra Group offer, explains: "PAC has identified us as a leader and we are proud of this. It is recognition for the work which we are constantly carrying out in order to improve our offers and quality of service. Attentive to the technological and societal changes under way, our objective is to anticipate the challenges and needs of our clients in order to provide them with the best support when they transform their information systems (ISs), through our multi-disciplinary teams combining consultants and engineers".

The publication of the PAC RADAR comes just as Sopra Group is improving its Application Management offer. Entitled "IS Assets Enhancement", it aims to provide even more value to the management and transformation of information systems in order to enable its customers to meet their main challenges: optimising costs, improving time-to-market, making the IS secure, aligning it with business processes and objectives, and getting the most out of new technologies (mobility, cloud, big data, social networks etc.).
